MT. CLEMENS
PERJURY CASE
HAS KICKBACKPROSECUTOR FIRES
AIDE WHO TOLD OF GAMBLING

Mt. Clemens, Mich., June 15 (AP)—The grand jury contempt conviction of Prosecutor Wilbur F. Held of Macomb county reverberated today with the extensive firing of one of his aides who testified against him.

Without comment, Prosecutor Held filed with the county clerk a letter ordering the pay of Assistant Prosecutor George F. Roberts be stopped "as of today"—within the same week of Held's conviction of giving false testimony.

Prosecutor Held, who is resigning effective June 2, was found guilty by Circuit Judge Dehnke, the one-man grand jury investigating alleged graft in Macomb county. Judge Dehnke stayed his 30-day jail sentence for Held to appeal to the state supreme court.

Judge Dehnke said Roberts, 31, a University of Detroit law graduate who has been an assistant prosecutor two years, testified that Held "did nothing about it" when told of gambling at an amusement park. Judge Dehnke said Held denied before the grand jury that Roberts had given him the stated information.

Gamblers Get Out
The prosecutor has indicated he will base his supreme court appeal on grounds that he was deprived of his constitutional right to his "day in court." He insisted he "told the truth" to the grand jury.

As the grand jury pressed its inquiry, it was reported that persons suspected of carrying on gambling operations in the county were leaving the area.

State Senator Ivan A. Johnston, accused of perjury by the grand jury for allegedly denying receipt of graft money from gamblers and bawdy house operators, will come up for examination June 5. The graft allegedly was paid him while he was prosecutor from 1929 to 1943.

Seamen On Lakes
Continue Campaign
For 40-Hour Week

Cleveland, June 15 (AP)—CIO Maritime unionists on the Great Lakes will continue to press demands for a 40-hour work week, although Cleveland units of the NMU and the Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union today ratified the settlement averting a national maritime strike, an NMU official declared.

"We have not demobilized our special strike committee and we are ordering its members to stand by," said Frank Jones, contract director for the NMU in the Lake region.

Jones reported that Great Lakes ship owners and NMU representatives would meet next Thursday to discuss the union's demands for a reduction of the work week from 56 to 40 hours.

GEORGIA AIMS TO BREAK KLAN

State Seeks To Revoke
Charter Of Hooded
Order In Court

Atlanta, June 15 (AP)—The state of Georgia, where the modern Ku Klux Klan was born in 1915, aims to break the national organization of the hooded order in a suit to be filed next week, State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook said today.

Declaring at a press conference, that Atlanta was the "national headquarters" of the Ku Klux Klan, Cook said the organization operated nationally under its Georgia charter.

It is this charter the state will seek to revoke in a civil court suit. One of the grounds for revoking the charter, Cook said, the state would contend, is "unlawful assemblies" of the organization.

The charter, first issued in 1916, became inactive in 1944 when the Imperial Wizard James A. Coleseott declared the Klan dormant. It was made active again in March this year when back dues were paid.

Coleseott is still listed as president of the organization.

Cook said the state intended to prove that the Association of Georgia Klans which Dr. Samuel Green, Atlanta physician, heads as grand dragon, is operating under the original Klan charter. It is Green's organization which has been active recently, and Green contends it is not part of Chartered Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc.

Cook said his office is investigating whether the flogging of a south Georgia negro, Willie Dudley was the work of the Klan.

An American Federation of Labor statement issues yesterday quoted the negro as saying four men who took him from his work in a clay pit and flogged him identified themselves as Klansmen. The AFL statement said the men flogged Dudley because he refused to resign from an AFL-affiliated union.

Housewives Advised
To Conserve Food
Or Face Lean Days

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—The Detroit famine emergency committee, headed by Mayor Edward Jeffries, today urged housewives to conserve food for the lean days which lie in the immediate future.

Jeffries told the assembled heads of relief agencies, government offices and food trade associations, "It seems that we are going to have less food every day for the next several weeks. We are again in a belt-tightening era and the public must be prepared for it or helped through it."

Edward J. Frawley, local hotel manager, told the committee members that housewives are only beginning to feel the food pinch which hit professional food dealers several weeks ago.

"It is apparent," Jeffries said, "that the federal government has bogged down and that our food system is working less effectively than it if we were operating on its own. The distribution system has been so monkeyed around that it is out of kilter."

Fingernail File Stab
Wound Proves Fatal
In St. Joseph Brawl

St. Joseph, Mich., June 15 (AP)—Two men are held for investigation in the fingernail-file stabbing and death early today of Stanley L. Nash, 22, of Decatur, Mich., after an amusement park brawl.

Police Chief Ben Phair said the fight started when one of the men in custody whistled at Nash's girl companion.

Norman Counterman, 27, of Euclid Center, Mich., has admitted in an oral statement that he slashed Nash with the sharpened file he was carrying, the chief declared.

George Kelly Dublin, 23, also of Euclid Center, Counterman's companion, has admitted participating in the fight, chief Phair also said.

Nash died in St. Joseph's sanitarium of a gash in the neck less than an hour after the fracas.

Chief Phair said that he expected the two men in custody to be formally charged Monday.

Questioning of the principals, declared the chief, produced this version of the affair:

Counterman and Dublin were seated in their car in the parking lot of the amusement park with Mrs. Mary Pearce, 22, and her sister, Miss Louise Howley, 17, both of Watervliet, Mich., when Nash and Miss Pauline Wright, 18, of Dowagiac, Mich., walked by.

Miss Wright said someone in the car whistled at her, and Nash wheeled around and began an argument. Shortly, Jay Meade, 23, of Decatur, and Miss Bonnie Bodtke, 17, of Eau Claire, Mich., who had come to the park with Nash and Miss Wright, arrived.

Members of the commission, awaiting instructions from their governments, indicated there was not likely to be any official comment before Wednesday, when the 12-nation body will meet to resume discussions.

Manchurian Strife
Eased As Chinese
Reds Sign Truce

BY HAROLD K. MILKS

Nanking, June 15 (AP)—Diminishing strife in Manchuria and further relaxation of tension in strategic Tsingtao were reported today as Communists here announced the signing of a new truce—implementation agreement described as a "step toward a permanent cease-fire" in the northeast.

Communist headquarters said the new pact concerned establishment of the advance section of executive (Sino-American truce) headquarters in Changchun, Manchurian capital, and the assignment of field (truce) terms in various areas of the vast northeast territory. It was signed, the Communist spokesman said, by U. S. General Marshall, Communist Negotiator Chou En-Lai and Government Representative Gen. Hsu Yungchang.

Meanwhile, Associated Press Correspondent Tom Masterson, in a dispatch from Peiping, reported Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Manchurian field commander as saying that serious clashes between government forces and Communists there had ceased.

The Soviet foreign minister asked the council to add the Italian situation to the agenda as preliminary to intervention if events justified such a course.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes replied that the United States had no objection if events really justified such action, but added that official information available to the United States showed that the Italian government now had the situation in hand and was successfully upholding the Republic, American sources said.

RUSSIA IS KEY
IN ATOM OFFER

United Nations Await Action Of Moscow;
No Quick Decision

BY MAX HARRELSON

New York, June 15 (AP)—Members of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission generally agreed today that approval of an atomic control plan would be a long process and that Russia's attitude would be the key factor.

There also was agreement on another point: That the plan offered yesterday by U. S. Representative Bernard M. Baruch probably would be the only comprehensive plan submitted and that the other nations would merely offer amendments.

"Don't expect the plan to be approved next week, or next month," said one delegate, who did not wish to be identified. "This plan is of tremendous importance. It is revolutionary. It raises many questions which will have to be answered."

Members of the commission, awaiting instructions from their governments, indicated there was not likely to be any official comment before Wednesday, when the 12-nation body will meet to resume discussions.

Under the Baruch plan the United States would stop producing atomic bombs, destroy its stockpile of bombs and turn its atomic secrets over to an international atomic development authority if the world would join in setting up safeguards to make sure that the lethal weapon would never again be used as an instrument of war.

SHIPPING HAS
SLOW RETURN TO NORMALCYMANY VESSELS IDLE
AS UNIONS RATIFY
STRIKE PEACE

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's Maritime Union workers on dock and ship began a back-to-work movement yesterday (Sat) at some ports, but thousands remained idle as union memberships voted on ratification of the last minute settlement reached in Washington in the wage dispute that had stalled vital shipping.

Settlement of the dispute was announced just before the midnight deadline Friday night—but not in time to avert the scheduled walkout of the seven-union committee for Maritime union.

Five union groups in New York City, comprising all elements involved in the walkout there, voted yesterday to end the stoppage and accept the settlement. The unions claim a membership of 30,000 in the nation's largest port.

About 500 seamen of the National Maritime Union in Philadelphia voted to ratify the agreement and the port returned to normal.

At Baltimore merchant seamen voted overwhelmingly to accept the terms and prepared to return to work immediately.

At Charleston, S. C., seamen affiliated with the CMU ratified the Washington agreement and returned to their jobs. However, the local NMU committee recommended negotiations be reopened for a 40-hour work week and a six-hour day.

Striking seamen at Savannah returned to their ships.

Port activities were normal at Mobile when seamen, who had been on a standby basis, went back to work after official notification of the settlement.

The walkout lasted two hours in Boston, involving 750 men. They soon drifted back to their vessels following NMU ratification there.

Seamen at Norfolk remained on their ships awaiting confirmation of settlement.

Port activities were normal at New Orleans, according to NMU officials. Stand-by workers resumed their duties.

Pacific Coast ports were crippled with 2,000 men out pending the settlement referendum.

Cleveland units of the NMU and the Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union ratified the Washington settlement. However, an NMU official said CIO Maritime unionists on the Great Lakes would continue to press demands for a 40-hour work week.

Vetoed Labor Disputes
Bill Held Up Until Next Year

BY CLAIR JOHNSON

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Backers of the vetoed Case labor disputes bill reported today they have called off their fight to revive the controversial measure until probably next year.

They said they will work instead for passage of a modified version of President Truman's emergency strike control legislation, which would give him power to take over essential strike-bound industries.

Added to the presidential proposal, they said, will be only such sections of the Case plan as the chief executive indicates he will accept. At present they have no assurance he will agree to any such addition.

Opponents of the far-reaching Case measure held the decision of its sponsors to withhold their fight for a while as "a smashing victory" in congress for Mr. Truman in his fight over the hotly debated bill.

The president vetoed the Case proposal last Tuesday, denouncing it as a measure which would promote, rather than lessen industrial strife. The house upheld him by a hairline margin, voting 255 to 135 to override his veto, which was five votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

The emergency plan - seizure legislation has passed both the senate and house in varying forms. The house rules committee, which meets Tuesday, now must recommend further house procedure although it is likely a decision will be postponed another week or so.

Verdict Of Voters
Awaited Tuesday In Off-Year Election

Detroit, June 16 (AP)—A wealth of candidates for public office will rest their hopes with the verdicts of Michigan voters Tuesday in the biennial primary election.

The state will nominate candidates for U. S. senator, 17 congressional seats, the governor's chair and the lieutenant governor's office in an off-year election that has aroused a bitter battle in the four-sided Republican gubernatorial race.

Some 800,000 electors, many of them war veterans, have registered in Wayne county (Detroit) alone and, while not all of them will bestir themselves on primary day, there are strong indications the vote may surpass the 441,035 state-wide total in the 1944 primary for governor.

Issues have centered around state administration, with legislative graft, state control of the liquor business, a veterans' bonus and bulging state coffers as talking points.

Republican Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg is unopposed for nomination to a fourth term, and nine of the state's 17 congressional representatives will meet no opposition until the final election in November. James H. Lee, assistant Detroit corporation counsel, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator.

Chief interest revolves around the race for the nominations for governor, with four Republicans and two Democrats aiming at the pedestal being vacated by the incumbent Republican, Harry F. Kelly, who is not seeking reelection.

Kelly has given his blessing to his lieutenant governor, Vernon J. Brown, a veteran of nearly 40 years in various state capital jobs. The latter has been assailed by his opponents as a "machine" candidate.

Iron Mountain Boy
Is Elected Governor
Of Wolverine State

Lansing, June 15 (AP)—David Anderson, 17, of Iron Mountain, today was elected governor of "Wolverine Boys State."

Anderson, first Upper Peninsula chief executive of the mythical "49th state" represented the Trojan party and polled 422 votes. His Athenian party opponent, Jerald Guyer of Rogers City, received 170 votes and Tom Mooradian, 17, of Detroit (1108 North Crawford), running as an independent, conducted a "sticker" campaign to get 119.

Other officers elected were: Robert Sheard, Detroit, Lt. governor; Mark Spagnuolo, Caro, secretary; James Maynard, Detroit, treasurer; Lee Walker, Hillsdale, auditor general; James Brown, Grosse Pointe, attorney general; James Morris, Lincoln Park, superintendent of public instruction; and Kendall Cowing, Roseville, highway commissioner.

They will take over the Lansing Capitol building Thursday afternoon.

TWO SERVICES
ENDORSE NEW
UNITY SET-UP12 - POINT PROGRAM
SENT TO CONGRESS
BY PRESIDENT

Washington, June 15 (AP)—President Truman asked congress today to merge the armed forces under a single cabinet officer and give the air forces more responsibility than the navy wanted that branch to have.

The president, deciding a disagreement between the secretaries of war and navy over unification details, ruled generally in favor of army position on three points they told him they could not resolve. He went most of the way with the navy on the fourth major point in dispute.

Along with the letter to military and naval committee chairmen of the house and senate setting forth the president's plan for the merger, the White House made public a letter to Secretaries of War, Navy and Forestal advising them that the disagreements are "herewith decided."

Cabinet Report Favorable

Mr. Truman told the congressional leaders that the two secretaries, together with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, had "assured me that they will support such a plan" as the one he offered.

Also made public was the report of the cabinet members, made on May 31.

"Only if there is this unity of structure, headed by an individual with power of decision," the war department view said, "can we achieve action where there is now inaction, concerted policy where there is now disjointed policy, and economy of manpower, resources and money where there is now waste of them all."

The navy said it recognized the need for greater integration but that it favored unification "in a less drastic and extreme form."

The president came closer to army desires than to the navy's ideas also in his decision favoring three coordinate branches in that department—one of them for air and each having a non-cabinet secretary. The navy said it felt that national security "requires maintenance of the integrity of the navy department, headed by a civilian secretary of cabinet rank," with naval aviation integrated.

As for aviation, the navy said: "One reason for the navy's strong conviction against a single department is the continued efforts of the army air forces to restrict and limit naval aviation. The navy knows that these efforts, if successful, would seriously impair our sea power and jeopardize our national security."

Only on the question of the status of the marine corps, did the president take the navy's advice in preference to the army's.

The army proposed heavier restrictions than the navy wanted on the use of marines. Mr. Truman

NO NEED SEEN
FOR RATIONINGAgriculture Secretary
Sees Long Siege For Food Shortage

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared tonight he does not believe a return to consumer rationing will be necessary to save peoples in other lands from starvation in the year ahead.

He said the United States no longer has the machinery for enforcing rationing and he doubts "Congress will wish to set it up again, at this point."

The government is developing, the secretary said, "a simpler form of rationing nearer the source—rationing of wheat and other short supplies to processors and distributors." As an example, he cited an agriculture department order requiring millers to cut their distribution of flour for domestic consumption 25 per cent from last year's level.

Anderson gave this view in a report prepared for a national broadcasting company program entitled "Can famine be prevented?" Sir John Boyd Orr, director-general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, also took part.

The secretary said American crop prospects are good, but he forecast short supplies of bread grains, meats and fats for 1947.

"The world food situation will remain critical at least until the 1947 harvest," Anderson said. "And it will be years after that before normal food production is restored."

held, much in line with navy contentions, that the corps should conduct limited land operations in seizing or defending advanced bases and prosecuting a naval campaign. It would be "maintained as a constituent part of the naval service."

"It is my hope that the congress will pass legislation as soon as possible affecting a unification based upon these 12 principles," the president said.

As a concession to navy objections, the new program drops the recommendation Mr. Truman made for a single military chief of staff in his message last December 18. The president said that Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary Forrestal of the navy had made "splendid progress" toward settling the controversy over unification, which has continued since V-J day. He reported they had reached agreement on eight important elements of unification and that "their differences are not irreconcilable" upon four on which they failed to agree entirely in a recent series of conferences.

Senate Moves First

In its major moves aside from elimination of a single chief of staff, the new proposal coincides with legislation recommended in April by the senate military affairs committee.

The senate naval affairs committee has held hearings on it and Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) has announced any amendments which grow out of these will be offered when the measure reaches the floor.

In the house legislation much along the same lines is awaiting action by the expenditures committee, which has indicated it will hold off until the senate moves.

Along with the letter to the committee chairman, the White House made public the report given to the president May 31 by Secretaries Patterson and Forrestal in which they set out their points of agreement and disagreement, and the president's reply to them dated today.

He noted that they agreed on creation of the council of common defense, a national security resources board, joint chiefs of staff, a central intelligence agency, a central intelligence agency, procurement and supply, research agencies and military education and training. He termed their understanding a "significant accomplishment."

The president agreed with the cabinet members that a provision in the Thomas bill for four assistant secretaries in the department of national defense was "unnecessary."

vices can be based" the president listed:

1. A single department of national defense, headed by a civilian cabinet member. Under him would be secretaries for the army, for the navy and for air, not cabinet members.

2. The army, navy and air force to be on a parity.

3. The air force to have responsibility for development, procurement, maintenance and operation of all military air resources except for specifically defined functions of the naval air arm.

The navy would be responsible for ship, carrier and water-based aircraft, marine corps aircraft, land type planes necessary for administration and certain air transport routes, and necessary training planes.

4. The marine corps to be maintained as a constituent part of the naval service with its own supporting aircraft. In addition to providing security for the navy, afloat and ashore, the marines would have the function of serving with the fleet in seizing or defending advance naval bases "or for the conduct of such limited land operations as are essential to the prosecution of a naval campaign."

5. The council of national defense would "integrate our foreign and military policies and provide for more effective cooperation among government agencies on defense matters. Members would include the secretary of state, the civilian head of the military establishment, the civilian heads of the military services and the chairman of a proposed military security resources board.

6. The resources board would be under the council and include representatives of government agencies other than the military.

7. The joint chiefs of staff would formulate strategic plans, integrate military programs, recommend integration of military budgets and provide for strategic direction of all the military forces.

Port Huron Admiral Awarded Gold Stars

San Diego, Calif., June 15 (AP)—Vice Adm. Frederick C. Sherman, of Port Huron, Mich., commander of the Fifth Fleet, today was presented two gold star medals in lieu of his second and third distinguished service medals.

The admiral, credited with more sea duty in World War II than any other Navy flag officer, received his decorations aboard the U. S. S. Vicksburg in San Diego harbor from Vice Adm. J. B. Oldendorf, 11th Naval District Commandant. Sherman was cited for command of a task group during operations against enemy bases in the Philippines, the coast of French Indo China, and the Japanese homeland.

Third Straight Loss Handed Boston Sox By Chicago, 7 and 6

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—Dave (Doc) Ferriss suffered his first pitching defeat in 11 starts today as the Chicago White Sox edged Boston's Red Sox 7-6, for the Red Sox' third straight setback and their longest losing streak of the season.

The White Sox, blasting Ferriss from the mound with four runs in the third inning, benefited from some relief work by Bill Dietrich in the ninth to grab their fifth straight win.

The Red Sox drove starter Joe Haynes from the mound during a 13-hit attack which included Bobby Doerr's eighth homer, and chased Ralph Hammer to the showers in the ninth to pick up their sixth marker.

The victory further brightened the homecoming of manager Ted Lyons after an unimpressive eastern swing. It gave the White Sox two in a row over the powerful pace-setters and 10 victories against 10 defeats since Lyons replaced Jimmy Dykes at the helm.

Alphonse Colnagard to repeat their nuptial vows at a double ring ceremony yesterday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's church of Perkins.

Sally Woodbridge, Harlan Meunier Wed At Marquette

Trinity Lutheran church in Marquette was the scene of an afternoon wedding on Friday, June 14, which united in marriage Sally Woodbridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stack of Marquette, and Harlan Meunier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meunier, 222 North 12th street.

Fresh spring flowers decorated the altar, where the couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Roepeke. The traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, who accompanied Mrs. Henry Jackson as she sang, "O Perfect Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale blue taffeta, the sweetheart neckline fashioned with a net yoke. A shoulder-length veil of pale blue matched her gown, and she carried a bouquet of peach gladioli and white baby mums. Her only jewelry was a pair of rhinestone earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Martin Keller of Peshtigo, Wis., and Mrs. Frances Dupras of Marquette. Mrs. Keller's gown was of pale pink brocade satin, with a net skirt and Mrs. Dupras wore a gown of pale pink chiffon. Each attendant wore a coronet of fresh flowers in her hair, and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Martin Keller of Peshtigo, and Clyde Moersch of Escanaba were the groomsmen, and Kenneth Meunier of Marinette was the usher.

An Offer for Peace

THE one bright development for peace in a world that still thinks in terms of war is the proposal by the government of the United States to scrap its store of atomic bombs and share its secrets of atomic energy with the world—provided that adequate safeguards are established to make certain that atomic bombs would never again be used as an instrument of war.

The terrible destructiveness of the atomic bomb has frightened the world and it has intensified the normal suspicions between nations. The United States has made a generous proposal for world peace by offering to turn over control of the use of atomic energy to an international commission that would have absolute power over atomic raw materials and production.

Bernard Baruch, the U. S. representative on the United Nations atomic energy commission, ably summed up the American position on the subject when he emphasized that the people of this country are primarily interested in outlawing war itself. We would be happy to share our atomic secrets with the world if in so doing, it would guarantee that no nation, including our own, need fear atomic war. If we can effectively outlaw the use of atomic energy in war, there is cause for hope that war itself can be outlawed as a means of settling international differences.

The proposal presented by the American government proves the sincerity of the American people and should allay fears throughout the world that the United States has any ulterior thoughts for the use of atomic power in acts of aggressions. We possess in our power today a weapon with which we could conquer the world. We have no inclination to that end, however, and have proved it by offering to share our secrets on atomic energy with the entire world.

Decentralized Industry

ADDITIONAL impetus to the industrial decentralization trend in this country was given recently by the potent Reader's Digest, which pointed out in a recent article the advantages to be gained by manufacturers in locating in small communities. Reader's Digest cited as an example of the benefits of decentralization the case of Sylvania Electric Products, which has 20,000 employees distributed in factories in a score small towns in various parts of the United States.

Sylvania found that small town workers are more satisfied than those who work in the large, congested cities. These workers are largely home owners. They are able to enjoy more leisure time for fishing, gardening and other hobbies because they do not lose much time in going to and from work. They also have their roots firmly in the communities where they work, take part in civic affairs and their relations with their plant foremen and managers are on a friendly, cooperative basis. As a result, the 40-year-old Sylvania company has been virtually free of labor difficulties.

Industrial decentralization was started a score years ago by Henry Ford when he established a number of small plants in Lower Michigan to supply parts for his automobiles. General Motors and other large corporations are also spreading out. In some instances, the decentralization is being done to get closer to the markets, but there are many cases where the manufacturers want to get away from the labor strife that appears to be ever-present in large industrial centers.

Seamen Strike Averted

SETTLEMENT of the maritime dispute, which threatened to tie up ocean transportation and the movement of much-needed food supplies to starving peoples overseas, has been hailed as an "unprecedented victory" by the CIO seamen and dock workers.

The seamen were granted wage increases that will boost their monthly pay by $50 to about $230 a month. The longshoremen received a 22-cent raise, which will boost their wage to $1.37 an hour.

Attention will now be focused on Great Lakes shipping, whose CIO sailors have been awaiting the outcome of the threatened walkout by the salt water seamen. It is to be hoped that a strike on the Great Lakes can be averted. Shipping of iron ore, so necessary for industrial reconversion, has been delayed a couple months by the miners' strike in the Lake Superior region and the long drawn-out tieup in steel industry.

Almost every week the nation seems to be facing a new crisis. Strike after strike has had a paralyzing effect upon the economy of a nation, whose people are clamoring for goods and are paying exorbitant prices for them because of their scarcity. What the country needs is full production, but it will never achieve that goal if we continue to have one major strike after another.

Righting a Wrong

THE U. S. Supreme Court has just handed down a decision which marks one of the most important steps toward winning the peace since the conclusion of the war. The decision abolishes separation of races on interstate transportation.

"It strikes at the un-Christian, undemocratic hypocrisy of some Americans," said Congressman Adam C. Powell of New York. "The eminent Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black of Alabama, said in his concurring opinion that it was regrettable that such action had not been taken by Congress."

"It is ridiculous," Negro veterans who have fought for democracy all over the earth must, when they return to the United States, ride in inferior, separate Jim Crow cars, while German prisoners of war are allowed first class accommodations on all trains," continued the Congressman. "It is a travesty that we can fight two wars to make a world safe for democracy in one generation, and do nothing whatsoever about our own democracy here."

"We in Congress have not passed a single win-the-peace law since the conclusion of the war. We have sat by and allowed the Supreme Court to do what we are paid to do. Why increase the salaries of Congressmen until we get down to the business of earning what we get now? Filibustering, gagging at gnats and swallowing camels isn't earning $10,000 a year. "One reason why we haven't increased our pay is because our own consciences have not allowed us to do it. There will be a lot of changes in the next Congress. In the language of Abraham Lincoln, "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but not all of the people all the time."

The House of Savoy

UMBERTO, ruler-for-day of the ancient Italian kingdom, went into exile last week and will probably join his father at Cairo. Few regrets will go with him at home, and the rest of the world just isn't interested. He is likely to be the last ruling scion of the House of Savoy.

This Savoy—it makes one think somehow of salad dressing—has disappeared from the atlases of the world as having no importance. But once it was a real kingdom, or at least a leading political division of the kingdom of Sardinia. Originally Savoy was the family possession of the line which has ceased to exist in Italy.

When Napoleon started the Holy Roman Empire on the road to ruin—it was really a wreck when he came into power—Savoy became a European political football, and in 1860 it was ceded to France, apparently for good. Bounded on the north by Lake Geneva, Savoy is the most beautiful mountain country imaginable. It is covered by the Grattian Alps, and is entirely broken up into scenic valleys and mountains, of which the greatest and the highest in Europe is the famous Mount Blanc.

Savoy contains very little cultivable soil but that little yields great quantities of grapes and mulberries, and it produces enough wheat for home consumption. Some coal, lead and iron are found, but probably the pastures that cover the mountains are most important. They feed large herds of sheep and cattle, and dairy farming is the chief occupation.

The entire country of Savoy has only 3,600 square miles of territory, or 2,250,000 acres. That is equal to a couple of Marquette counties or say three and one-half Delta counties, and it is a small land to have played so prominent a part in the history of a continent. The population is about 550,000, or perhaps twice that of the Upper Peninsula. The robber counts and dukes of Savoy developed eventually into the reigning family of Italy, and now that family bids fair to melt into the mists of obscurity, as all things mundane must.

A HOPE, THAT'S ALL

Pere Marquette Railway's decision to abolish tipping in its diner service is worthy of a medal.

Time was when tipping was only an occasional nuisance. During the war years it became a national vice. The new symbol of service is a man with his hand out, palm up.

We would like to believe that others will follow Pere Marquette's example, to the relief of golf club members, restaurant patrons, hotel guests and the fellow who buys a haircut and tonic.

But we recall what the Sphinx said to the Anzac soldier when she was asked for the digested wisdom of the ages: "Brother, don't expect too much!"

Washington—With the summer recess the supreme court quarrel will be in abeyance, but the long summer vacation will not heal a feud that in its current phase has torn the veil of illusion from the venerable institution.

A little back ground helps to explain the extraordinary bitterness that pervades the conference room of the court. About a year after Justice Hugo Black was appointed to the court I unintentionally contributed toward fanning that bitterness. It came about in this way.

Over a period of a number of months I had long conversations with the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone. He confided his deep concern over the type of appointments which President Roosevelt was making to the court. What disturbed him, and Black was a case in point, was whether the new men would have the lawyer-like qualities to serve in such high judicial office; or whether they would merely express their prejudices and predilections in legal language as the old "Conservative" members of the court had done.

It is important to remember the status of the court at this time. The older justices, who had voted against New Deal laws over the vigorous dissents of Stone and Brandeis, were retiring or dying. Obviously President Roosevelt would shape a brand new court.

On the basis of my talks with Stone, I wrote a magazine article in which I suggested that some of Black's colleagues were unhappy because of what seemed to be his lack of craftsmanship in the law. Partly because of the malice of one individual who had a special interest in promoting the feud, Stone was accused of having a personal antagonism toward Black. Black had already gone through a searing blast of publicity as a result of the disclosure that he had at one time been a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He was harried by reporters and his privacy invaded in a way calculated to embitter him. Then my magazine article was made the basis of what seemed to be a new and deliberately planned attack on him personally.

One consequence was that he worked harder than perhaps any justice in the history of the court. He was determined to vindicate himself and to justify in the law his liberal opinions. By the force of his mind and personality, he soon enlisted Justices Murphy and Douglas in his camp. He was frequently joined by Justice Rutledge and occasionally by Justice Reed.

When Jackson came to the court, he was attracted by temperament and the bent of his legal thinking to Stone. They became fast friends. Stone's views on strict construction of the constitution became Jackson's views.

In recent years the bitterness has taken on, even in judicial conference, a tone of personal venom. One incident that fed it was the dinner given in Black's honor two years ago by a group representing labor and left wing politics. This was a sense a vindication dinner for the man who had been so maligned.

All the members of the court were invited. Jackson declined and Stone, then chief justice, did not attend. At the dinner, Black was eulogized by a number of speakers, including the legal representatives of several large labor organizations.

At least two of these speakers appeared in court to argue cases in the next few days. Jackson felt that this was grossly improper. In discussing it with friends he put it this way:

"What if in the old days of the court, when the conservative justices were under fire, one of the big business associations had given a dinner in honor of one of the conservative justices with appropriate eulogies from a corporation lawyer. Then the speaker making the eulogy would appear in court to argue a case the following day. Why every liberal in the country would have screamed his head off over it."

Black's record, from the first moment of his appointment, has been a tragic one. Those close to Roosevelt say that the late president never forgave Black for not having told him of the Klan connection.

Hugo Black was a valuable senator. Particularly in his conduct of certain investigations, he showed himself a fearless and resourceful prosecutor. Both in the utilities and the ship lobby investigation, he did more than anyone has done since to show the connection between big business and pressure politics.

The fact of a man's elevation to the supreme court does not mean that he thereby automatically sheds his prejudices. But Black, by virtue of his intense partisanship, seems less fitted than most men to hold high judicial office. Perhaps the only solution is for both Jackson and Black to resign. Then the unhappy effects of this feud might be erased. Under the administration of Fred Vinson, the new chief justice, the court might again achieve working harmony and repair the damage done in loss of public esteem.

PRO AND CON — A recent communication from C. A. Burnham of Bark River has directed attention to the growing number of black bear in Delta county, and the concern which it causes among residents in some rural sections of the county.

Dunathan

It is the belief of some people that we have too many bears. They say the bear is killing livestock, frightening cattle, and causing farmers more trouble than the bear are worth. On the other hand there are thousands of local residents who have never seen a black bear in the woods or along the highways in their life. They would like to get a glimpse of one sometime, just for the fun of it. Also there are those interested in the tourist business who point out that bear are an attraction for visitors, and cite as example the furs tourists make over the bear in Yellowstone Park.

Be that as it may, one of the more fortunate residents of the Upper Peninsula is Mrs. J. W. Hayden of Manistique, who recently saw a large black bear, followed by a cub, crossing U-2 about three miles west of Nahma Junction. Mrs. Hayden saw the bear while driving from Manistique to Green Bay.

BUBBLE GUM BUBBLE—Like pylons and new cars, bubble gum is among the scarce postwar items. The other day at the Idolo, where Mrs. Frank "Ma" Karas dispenses sound advice to youth along with soda pop and ice cream cones, there was a bubble gum rush when 300 sticks of the stuff arrived. It was put on sale at 3 p. m., was gone by 6 p. m.

"How did they know you had bubble gum? Did you advertise?" asked a friend.

"You don't have to advertise," replied Mrs. Karas. "All over the neighborhood you could hear the kids calling to each other 'She's got bubble gum!'"

Although some of the boys and girls brought quarters and half dollars, the limited supply was rationed out at five sticks to the customer.

ELECTION DAY—Tuesday will be election day, and voters will go to the polls to nominate candidates for state and county offices for the Republican and Democratic tickets. Or at least they should go to the polls. Too many voters have the mistaken idea that a primary election is comparatively unimportant, and that all they have to do is vote in November on candidates nominated by others in June.

Unless you vote and register your choice of candidates at the primary, you might just as well forget about voting in November—so far as being a conscientious citizen is concerned. Primary elections are important. It is the time when the voters select the candidate of their party to oppose the nominee of the opposing party. The nomination of a weak or ineffective candidate can spell the difference between victory and defeat in November.

This is particularly true in Michigan, a state noted for the independent temper of its voters. Although constrained to vote a party ballot in the primary, the voters can do as they please in the November balloting. If they do not care for the nominee of their party, they can split their

By radio, telephone and letter the Escanaba police department Saturday asked police and sheriff's departments to be on the alert in an effort to trap a band of gypsy "spiritualists" who tricked a Delta county woman out of $2,293 in cash.

A June wedding of charming appointments was that of Dorothy Mae Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, 201 South 17th street, and Rodger O. Smith, son of Mrs. N. Smith, 908 Second Avenue south, which took place Saturday at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

SHE CAN'T DANCE—One of the most anti-climatic sequels to a melodramatic story was the recent news story—rather obscurely placed—that a Seminole Indian girl was not condemned to death because she had an illicit romance with a white man. First reported, the story was that the girl had been cast out by the Florida tribe and condemned to wander to her death in the Everglades swamps. Pathetically added note was the report that she was to have a baby.

Now the truth is out. An uncle of the girl reports that his niece can stay with the tribe and live in peace with her family. Only punishment imposed is that the girl will not be permitted to attend the "green corn dance." The girl's name is Lena.

MYSTERY GIRL—Somewhere in Munising or vicinity there is a young girl 10 or 11 years of age who has an unusually good voice. Stanley Moyle, manager of the theater at Munising would like to locate her. Do you know who she is?

That she can sing and sing well is beyond dispute, says Moyle. To prove his point he tells of the one and only time the girl sang at the theater's Saturday matinee birthday club program—a unique feature started by Moyle Jan. 1, 1945. Over 500 boys and girls under 12 are registered in the club. During their birthday week, each child is called to the stage and is asked to sing or speak be-

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. What is a hurricane?

A. The hurricane is a remarkable storm wind, peculiar to certain portions of the world. It rarely takes its rise beyond the tropics, and it is the only storm to dread within the region of the trade winds.

Q. How many people left the Dust Bowl during the ten-year period of 1930-40 and where did most of them go?

A. It is estimated that between the ten-year period of 1930 and 1940, about 550,000 persons went to California from the Dust Bowl States and from Iowa and Illinois. There are no estimates of the total number of persons who left the Dust Bowl during that period, but it is believed half of the families that did leave went to California. Generally, the families were large.

Q. Please give me a recipe for sour cream biscuits.

A. Sift together two cups of flour, 1 teaspoon of baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar, and cut-in 3 tablespoons of butter. Mix to a soft dough with 1 cup (or more) of sour cream in which has been dissolved 1 teaspoon baking soda. Toss on a lightly floured board, knead and pat to one inch thickness, and cut with a floured cutter. Put the biscuits on a well buttered baking sheet and bake for 12 to 15 minutes at 400 degrees F. A bit of butter on each biscuit, just before they go in the oven, will make them a nice brown and give added flavor.

Q. Did Lou Zontini and Steve Sitko play with Notre Dame when the team played in the Rose Bowl?

A. Notre Dame played in the Rose Bowl in 1925, and Zontini and Sitko did not play with the team until the late 30's.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Obscured by news of strikes, hotel fires and supreme court bickering, the most important conversation of the western hemisphere quietly took place in Washington. It was between the Argentine chief of staff, Lieut. Gen. Carlos Von Dor Becke, and U. S. officials, especially General Eisenhower.

The conversation was important for the following reasons:

1. This is the first time in recent history that the U. S. army has taken foreign policy away from the state department and has virtually attempted to dictate its own policy for Latin America.

2. The U. S. army is now forcing close military cooperation with the chief dictatorship in Latin America which, up until a short time ago, we were officially denouncing as pro-Nazi.

Here is the inside story of what happened.

For some weeks, General Eisenhower, worried about Russian penetration of Latin America, has been pushing the idea of standardizing weapons and ammunition among the Americas, so their armies can cooperate with the United States.

The state department, while sympathetic to this general idea, has argued that we should not put the cart before the horse. In other words, the arming of Latin American armies by the USA must not start until we have signed an international defense pact and arranged for the control of arms. Otherwise, the state department argues, the arms we send Latin America will be used by military juntas to promote revolution, build up dictators and foment wars.

—IMPATIENT EISENHOWER—

However, General Eisenhower, without waiting for the state department, jumped the gun and began asking Congress to okay standardized arms for Latin America.

Meanwhile, Dictator Peron, sitting isolated in Argentina, worried over the Brazilian army's modern lend-lease equipment, rose to U. S. army bait, and decided to go over the state department's head.

This he did, first by a personal letter to Eisenhower, later by having his chief of staff, General Von Der Becke, resign and go to Washington as a private citizen.

The Argentine General, who is pure German and once openly stated that the German army could not lose the late war, called on Eisenhower last week. When he walked into his office, he did not know that only two hours before, the U. S. Chief of Staff had received a phone call from Assistant Secretary Spruille Braden seeking to put a damper on Ike's cordiality. Braden informed him that reports on Peron's inauguration were disquieting and the American Ambassador had been rudely booed.

Eisenhower said thanks, he'd keep it in mind.

Ambassador Messersmith in Buenos Aires also had cabled Washington that the impression prevalent in Argentine government circles was that Braden was all washed up as assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin American affairs, and that was why Argentina was now trying to deal directly with "Realists" in the U. S. army.

Braden pointed this cable out to his chief, Secretary Byrnes, and protested that Eisenhower's actions were undermining the state department. As a result, Eisenhower promised to make it clear to Von Der Becke that final army decisions must come from the state department.

TRIBUTE TO U. S. MILITARY MIGHT

All this had taken place before the Von Der Becke interview. When the interview finally occurred, only five men were present. Eisenhower was flanked by Lieut. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, new chief of combined U. S. intelligence and nephew of Senator Vandenberg. General Von Der Becke was accompanied by Col. Arturo Bertello, Argentine military attache, and the fifth man was Lieut. Col. Gregorio Marquez, a Puerto Rican officer who acted as interpreter.

Von Der Becke began by telling Eisenhower that both he and Peron now regard U. S. military genius as the world's greatest. (Eisenhower was courteous enough not to remind him that two days before D-Day he had also predicted that "Europe never could be invaded.")

The Argentine general then went on to explain that Peron's policies were not aggressive. Their sole purpose, he said, was to revitalize Argentine political and social consciousness, long dormant under a series of corrupt governments. Nationalism and armed strength, argued the general, who is of pure German descent, were being stressed only as part of the program and not with any thought of attacking neighbor countries or of spearheading an anti-U. S. bloc in Latin America.

"On the contrary," Von De Becke continued, "Argentina wholeheartedly supports President Truman's plan for inter-American military cooperation through standardization of equipment and training methods."

What troubled Peron, he said, were certain phrases in President Truman's message asking Congress to pass the standardization of equipment bill, which indicated that Argentine participation in the project might be tied to fulfillment of "impossible demands" from the state department.

NEW INDUSTRY IS ESTABLISHED

Hiawatha Manufacturing Company Operating
Near Wells

The Hiawatha Manufacturing company, the latest of Delta county's home grown industries, is now in production with a crew of eight employees, manufacturing hamper frames for the Dearfree company. It has been announced by Vernon White and Fred Mattson, partners in the Hiawatha industrial venture.

The company is located in the old Delta Chemical company property near Wells, which was purchased by White and Mattson. A total of 62 acres of property is included in the site.

The establishment of a tourist resort, Hiawatha Harbors, is planned by the partners along the Bay de Noc lake frontage at the chemical plant location but this will not be developed for several years. A considerable amount of cleaning up and the removal of debris from the wrecking of the buildings at the chemical plant is planned before the tourist resort is established. More than a mile of lake frontage is included in the site.

Seven all brick homes will be constructed along the lake by the partners this summer and will be made available for rental purposes. Eventually these homes will become a part of the resort planned at Hiawatha Harbors but in the meantime they will be utilized to help in relieving the critical housing shortage in this area. While the plans for Hiawatha Harbors resort development are still in the formative stage, the development of the Hiawatha Manufacturing company is progressing rapidly. The company is now geared to produce approximately 500 hamper frames daily and if materials were in sufficient abundance, approximately 20 employees could be utilized immediately.

Eventually the company plans to branch out into the manufacture of finished furniture instead of providing only parts as at present. Additional equipment has been ordered with this thought in mind, including gluing and spraying equipment.

CEILINGS DROP ON USED CARS

Reduction Of 4 Percent
To Take Effect
On July 1

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—The Trade Publication Automotive News will say in its June 17 issue that used car ceiling prices will be reduced four percent every three months hereafter instead of every six months as has been the practice.

Current used car ceilings are scheduled to drop another four percent on July 1.

The OPA is expected to announce the new plan within a week or 10 days, the publication will say, and at the same time will fix price ceilings on used 1946 models, which heretofore have not been under regulation.

Automotive News will say it learned that the prices for used 1946 models will follow the formula of previous used car price orders.

Within the next 30 days, the paper will say, OPA also will announce price ceilings on new trucks. These ceilings, it adds, "will reduce present truck prices considerably."

Escanaba's Bank Debits Increase

In Escanaba, the volume of bank debits in May 1946 was 29 per cent above those of May 1945, and the cumulative total (January through May) of this year was 37 per cent above that of 1945.

The bank debit summary, just released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, represents the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. For a locality bank debits are considered a good indicator of the volume of business transacted, for they reflect the amount spent by farmers, business and government in payrolls and for materials as well as the amount spent by consumers in the general trade channels.

In Michigan May debits were 15 per cent over the same month of last year, while the total for January through May shows a gain of 13 per cent over the same 1945 period.

Combined totals of all reporting centers in the Ninth Federal Reserve District were 13 per cent above those of May 1945, and the cumulative total increase was 17 per cent.

MURRAY D.

"Pat" VAN WAGONER

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR

Governor

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES

TUESDAY, JUNE 18

We earnestly solicit your vote and support for Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagoner for Governor in the Democratic Primaries Tuesday, June 18th because he is a man who has fully demonstrated his fitness for this high office.

As Michigan's war governor (1941-1942) his administration of state affairs — including balancing the budget — was beyond any criticism. As Highway Commissioner for the State of Michigan, he clearly demonstrated his interest in the development of the Upper Peninsula through the system of surfaced highways he inaugurated. His confidence in the future growth and prosperity of this section of the state has not lessened and our best interests lie in returning "Pat" Van Wagoner to the office of governor.

He promises honest, able and sincere leadership in state government — AND HE HAS ALWAYS KEPT HIS PROMISES!

He is capable of meeting the future problems facing us . . . Veterans' and Housing Legislation, Aid for Schools, Liberal Old Age Benefits, Improved Hospital Facilities, Improvements in aid of Business and Agriculture and a Michigan Bonus for World War II Veterans . . . and solving them in the best interests of all.

Hyde, Ford River Street Lights Up To Voters Tuesday

The voters of Ford River township will on Tuesday vote a special referendum ballot to determine whether the townships shall purchase and install electric street lighting at Ford River Mill and Hyde, as requested by residents of those communities.

The question has been approved by the township board last April by a vote of 4 to 1, but later it was decided to submit the matter to a vote of the people of the township, although the board has authority to appropriate funds for such a purpose. An advisory vote will be taken, however, to satisfy those who have opposed the expenditure.

Proponents of the street lighting installation say that Ford River and Hyde are the only communities of their size in the county that do not have some street lighting service. The petition asking the lights was signed by more than 100 residents.

American public libraries contain more than 107,000,000 volumes.

Failure To Report Means Extra Penalty For Bike Violators

Ten youthful violators of the city's bicycle ordinance who failed to report at police headquarters after receiving traffic tickets were given extra penalties this week, Sgt. Phil Bruce, traffic chief, reports.

Most parents are very cooperative about having their children report promptly after receiving the original summons, Sgt. Bruce said, but there are still some ten delinquents among 76 bike law violators who have received tickets since April 6.

Extra penalties usually consist of writing the bike regulations an additional number of times but frequent violators are subject to license suspensions.

Store Windows Are Damaged By Mystery Vandal Here Friday

Two pieces of vandalism, the smashing of door windows in the Hansen and Jensen service station at Ludington and 23rd street, and at Cliff's Cash Market, 330 South 15th street, Friday night or early Saturday morning are regarded by police as acts of spite.

As in the cases of similar destruction of door windows in several north side business establishments several weeks ago, there was evidently no effort made to enter or burglarize the places.

Police Chief Michael Ettenhofer said he believed the apparently senseless acts were motivated by a grudge, held by some irresponsible individual, probably against the police.

NOTICE TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF DELTA COUNTY:

I desire to be nominated as Representative to the State Legislature on the Republican ticket at the Primary Election, to be held throughout Delta County on the eighteenth day of June, 1946. My nomination petitions were circulated and the required number of voters signed and my petitions were filed with the County Clerk in the regular way. The law required that I file an affidavit of my identification with the County Clerk within three days from the the 23d day of April, 1946. At that time I was in the City of Chicago on business so that it was impossible for me to file the affidavit of identification as required by law. Because of this omission, my name will not appear on the primary ballot so that if I am nominated, I will have to be nominated on slips. You will find on the regular Republican primary ballot a vacancy for the office of State Representative.

It will be necessary for you to do two things for my nomination.

FIRST: EITHER PASTE ONE OF MY SLIPS OR WRITE MY NAME IN THE VACANT PLACE PRINTED

SECOND: PUT A CROSS IN THE SQUARE BEFORE MY NAME.

Both are absolutely necessary. I must receive 15% of the highest vote cast for any candidate on the Republican ticket so I am asking all of my friends throughout the County to be sure and place my name on the Republican ballot as above described.

Voters Ballot Tuesday In State-Wide Primary

Michigan voters will go to the polls Tuesday to nominate party candidates for state, senatorial, congressional, and county offices in a primary election marked by several contests on both Republican and Democratic tickets.

POLLING PLACES, HOURS

The polls will be open in the city and county from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Following are polling places in the city of Escanaba: Precinct No. 1—Carnegie Public Library; No. 2—Franklin school; No. 3—City hall; No. 4—Jefferson school; No. 5—Junior high school; No. 6—Barr school; No. 7—Fire station in North Escanaba; No. 8—Senior high school building.

Particular interest has been aroused in the Republican contest for the nomination for governor, which has attracted a field of four candidates following the announcement by Gov. Harry F. Kelly that he would not seek reelection. Republicans seeking the nomination are Vernon J. Brown, lieutenant governor, Edward J. Jeffries, Raymond J. Kelly, and Kim Sigler.

There are also four Republicans seeking the nomination for lieutenant governor—Owen J. Cleary, George N. Higgins, Eugene C. Keyes and Howard Nugent. Osmund Kelly is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

At the state level the Democrats have a primary contest for governor between William J. Cody and Murray D. Van Wagoner. The latter is a former governor and one-time highway commissioner of Michigan.

Three-way Contest

Both Republican and Democratic candidates for U. S. senator are unopposed, which assures their nomination. They are Arthur H. Vandenberg, incumbent senior senator from Michigan, a Republican; and James H. Lee, Democrat. A similar situation exists concerning the nomination of candidates for representative in congress from the 11th district, which includes Delta county. On the Republican ticket Fred Bradley of Rogers City, incumbent, is unopposed, while Cecil Bailey is unopposed for the nomination on the Democratic ticket.

In Delta county there is more than ordinary interest in the three-way race for the Republican nomination for state senator from this 30th district, because one of the candidates is Harry Buchman, Rapid River business man. Buchman is making his third attempt to win the state senatorship. He was the Republican nominee in 1940 but lost the election to Joseph LaFramboise of Gladstone by 2,000 votes. The other two candidates are George Girschbach of Sault Ste. Marie, incumbent, who is seeking his second term after defeating Ralph R. Olsen, Democrat, of Escanaba two years ago; and William A. Ellsworth, mayor and superintendent of schools at St. Ignace.

All three are veterans of World War I and each is pledged to support state legislation beneficial to service men. The Republican nominated—whether Girschbach, Ellsworth or Buchman—will virtually assure his election to the office in November, for the Democrats have no nominee for state senator on the ballot.

One Slip Candidate
For representative from Delta county in the state legislature the Democrats have three candidates seeking nomination. They are Myron W. Legg, Escanaba, son of Peter Legg, incumbent, who is not a candidate for reelection; Violet Patterson (Mrs. Walter Patterson) of Perkins; and Arnold T. Rossow of Brampton.

On the Republican ticket for representative in the legislature there is no candidate's name, but Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba business man, is making a determined effort to win the nomination as a slip candidate. Petitions were circulated for Jensen, but because he was in Chicago on business he failed to file the affidavit of identification within three days which was necessary to place his name on the ballot. He now seeks the nomination on slips, and must receive 15 per cent of the highest vote cast for any candidate on the Republican ticket to win the nomination.

Only other contests, both on the Democratic ticket, are between William E. Miron, incumbent, and Maurice J. Pratt, Escanaba, for sheriff; and Otto S. Hult of Gladstone, Thomas A. McInerney and Kevill Murphy of Escanaba for coroner.

Voters will receive three ballots at the primary—Republican, Democratic and non-partisan. The non-partisan ballot carries the names of two candidates for circuit court commissioner who are unopposed. They are John G. Erickson and Wheaton L. Strom of Escanaba. The complete Republican and Democratic tickets are as follows:

While a fair number of boats have been offered for the search, more are needed. They may be outboard motor boats, rowboats, regular motor boats or sail boats. Any type of craft can render valuable assistance, it is pointed out.

City Manager H. J. Henriksen said yesterday that city employees are expected to report for duty to take part in the search and Fire Chief William Marshall said the same would be expected of volunteer firemen.

D. A. Mathison is urging all former members of the Coast Guard Reserve and Auxiliary to report for duty.

Holiday To Carry
Illustrated Story
Concerning Role

The annual birling championship at Gladstone, Mich., are given nation-wide publicity in a feature article illustrated with color photos in the July issue of Holiday magazine.

Written by Clay Perry, the article describes birling as a "he-man sport, as tricky and treacherous in water as bucking a vicious bronco on land." Prospective visitors are told that Gladstone is only comparatively remote, and is easily reached by train, by lake steamer or by bus from Detroit, Chicago, or Milwaukee.

Visitors will find several good hotels at Escanaba, and tourists homes, cabins and trailer camps at Gladstone, nine miles away.

The birling contests are one of the feature attractions of the Hiawatha National Forest Festival held July 4, 5 and 6.

Author Perry says birling is one of the most exciting sports events indigenous to the American scene, requiring a wiry, cat-footed man to stay on a log whirling so fast it draws a thin sheet of water up on it.

Birling isn't the only attraction in the section, the author continues. The motorist can take side trips to picturesque Nahma, a lumbering town where the logging business is still big stuff. And late in July there is the National Trout Derby.

In addition to the birling matches at Gladstone, there will be a beauty contest and some of the pretty blond Viking maidens themselves will do some fancy footwork on the logs. The sport is essentially one for masculine strength and endurance, but girls have the sense of balance to stay atop a spinning log, and make up in grace what they lack in staying power.

Martin-Lockard
A wedding of interest to Gladstone residents is that of Myrna Martin of Hays, Kas., and George Lockard, city, which was solemnized recently at Hays.

The following account of the wedding appeared in a Hays (Kas.) newspaper:

"Mr. and Mrs. Leroy R. Martin of Hays announce the marriage of their daughter, Myrna, to George H. Lockard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene T. Lockard of Gladstone, Mich., this morning at 11 o'clock in the Baptist church of Hays, the Rev. R. J. Wynne having performed the ceremony.

"The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a street length dress of pale blue summer crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations. The bride's only ornament was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

"Miss Carol Koons, who attended the bride, wore a street length dress of gold jersey with white accessories.

"Mrs. Lockard is a well-known member of the younger set of Hays, having attended the Hays high school. Mr. Lockard is a recently discharged veteran, having served 39 months in the Air Corps, 7 of which were spent overseas.

"Mr. and Mrs. Lockard will be at home in Gladstone, Mich."

Mr. and Mrs. Lockard arrived in Gladstone Saturday to make their home. Mr. Lockard is opening a photography shop.

Louis-Gillis

Miss Theresa Louis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Louis, and Earl A. Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gillis, were united in marriage at a ceremony in Escanaba, on June 6.

The couple were attended by Mrs. Howard Carlson and Lyle Krout.

For her wedding the bride chose a figured blue print dress, and with it she wore a large white hat and white accessories. Her corsage consisted of red roses.

Mrs. Carlson, her attendant, wore a rose figured print dress, a large white hat and white accessories.

INTEREST IN ELECTION LAGS

Three-Way Contest For Sheriff Causes
Biggest Stir

Even though an election is but two days away, there is little to remind one of that important event in Schoolcraft county.

Chief interest, locally, seems to be centered about the contest for sheriff in which three candidates are seeking the Republican party nomination and are making a spirited campaign for votes. In the race are Clayton G. Wood, Edwin W. Gray and Howard Hewitt. The first two candidates have sought nomination for this office before, but Hewitt, son of the present sheriff, is new in politics.

On the ballot for nomination for prosecuting attorney are two names, that of William J. Sheahan, present incumbent, and James R. Fitzharris, who served in that capacity four years ago. Fitzharris, however, made the announcement Saturday that he will not seek the nomination as he has entered an Escanaba law firm.

There are no other primary contests for county office. But one candidate for county office appears on the Democratic ballot. He is John B. Nessman, who will oppose G. Leslie Bouschor for the office of county clerk in the fall election.

The race for state senator in the primaries has also aroused considerable interest and speculation. George Girrbach, present incumbent is opposed by Harry Buchanan and William A. Elsworth. Many candidates for state office have visited Manistique the past few months, but nothing in the nature of a political rally has taken place.

FREE PARKING
LOT PROVIDED

D. M. Creeger Donates
Use Of Lots On
Cedar Street

Downtown parking space in Manistique—long a serious problem—is being relieved for at least the current season by the transformation of two city lots facing Cedar street between the Larson Hardware and the Blindman's Shop.

D. M. Creeger, owner of the lots had long hoped to erect a business block on the site, but due to the government restrictions on construction of business property he has given up hope of realizing the ambition for the time being. At the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce that the lots be used for parking, he readily gave his consent.

Sponsored jointly as a city and C of C project, the ground has already been leveled with a bulldozer and cinders will soon be applied to give it a hard surface. Lanes for parking will be marked off, logs will provide a barrier between the lot and the sidewalk and lights will also be set up at vantage points.

There will be no charge for parking and an attractive sign will be erected to inform the public to that effect.

LEGION PLANS
BIG INITIATION

Ceremony To Open Big
Convention Here
Next July

A mass initiation of new members into the American Legion will be one of the impressive events of the coming convention of the U. P. District of the American Legion.

About one hundred local ex-service men have signed up for membership and many more are expected to enroll before the event, which is scheduled to take place on either the afternoon or the evening of July 18, the first day of the convention.

It will serve as a preliminary to the reception which will be held at the Elks temple on the evening of that date.

Plans, which were announced at this week's meeting of the American Legion, are only tentative and will be made to fit in with other convention plans now in the making. On the committee for the initiation affair are Harvey Quick, chairman, Dr. A. R. Tucker and Bernard Cook.

Heralded as one of the most important events in store for Legionnaires who attend, is the assured visit of John Stelle, national commander of the American Legion who will be the principal convention speaker. He will address the public following the concluding banquet at the new gymnasium on the evening of Saturday, June 20. Also of special interest will be the parade in which there will be bands and drum corps from all parts of the Upper Peninsula, massed colors and floats and scores of innovations that make Legion convention parades beautiful, interesting and amusing.

Housing still remains something of a headache for the committee in charge, but the problem is nearing solution and much that had the committee baffled a few weeks ago is now well in hand.

Hotel Ossawinamakee will be official headquarters for the convention. The convention dates are July 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Escanaba Bears Play Negaunee In NWM League Game Here Today

FITZPATRICK IS MOUND CHOICE

Local Club Has Chance To Get Out Of League Cellar

The Escanaba Bears will make a determined effort to climb out of the cellar of the Northern Wisconsin baseball league when they meet the Negaunee Rovers at Iron River, Minn., today.

Manager John Schwalbach is expected to start Jim Fitzpatrick, reliable left hander, on the hill against Negaunee today. Jack Beck, the Bears' right hander, also will be available for duty. Beck went the route last Sunday against the Iron Mountain Rangers. Toodles Flath will be the receiver.

Jerome Deloria, who moved to the top of the NWM league batting standings last week when Leo Paoli, of Iron Mountain went hitless against the Bears, will be on first base today for the Escanaba team. Deloria was out of action last week because of illness. Jungles will be at second. Gerschik at short and Pryal at third. Mayenish is a sure starter at center field and Bob L'Houillier, acquired this week by the Bears, probably will see action at one of outfield positions along with John Schwalbach, Jr., Kippy Derouin and Leo Dube.

The Rovers have announced that either Jokela or Vance Hiney will start on the hill for Negaunee.

The visitors also have a strong thrower in Ralph Gustafson, who pitched four hit ball last Sunday against Iron River, Trochaud is the probable assignment for the catching duties.

Negaunee has defeated Iron River, Channing and the Iron Kings this season. They were beaten by Crystal Falls and dropped one-run decision to Iron Mountain and Niagara.

On the other hand, the Bears have won only from the Iron Kings and dropped decisions to Crystal Falls, Iron River, Iron Mountain and Niagara.

A temporary barrier was erected around the outfield at the ballpark yesterday to set up a home run target for the sluggers and also to form parking space behind the barrier for automobiles.

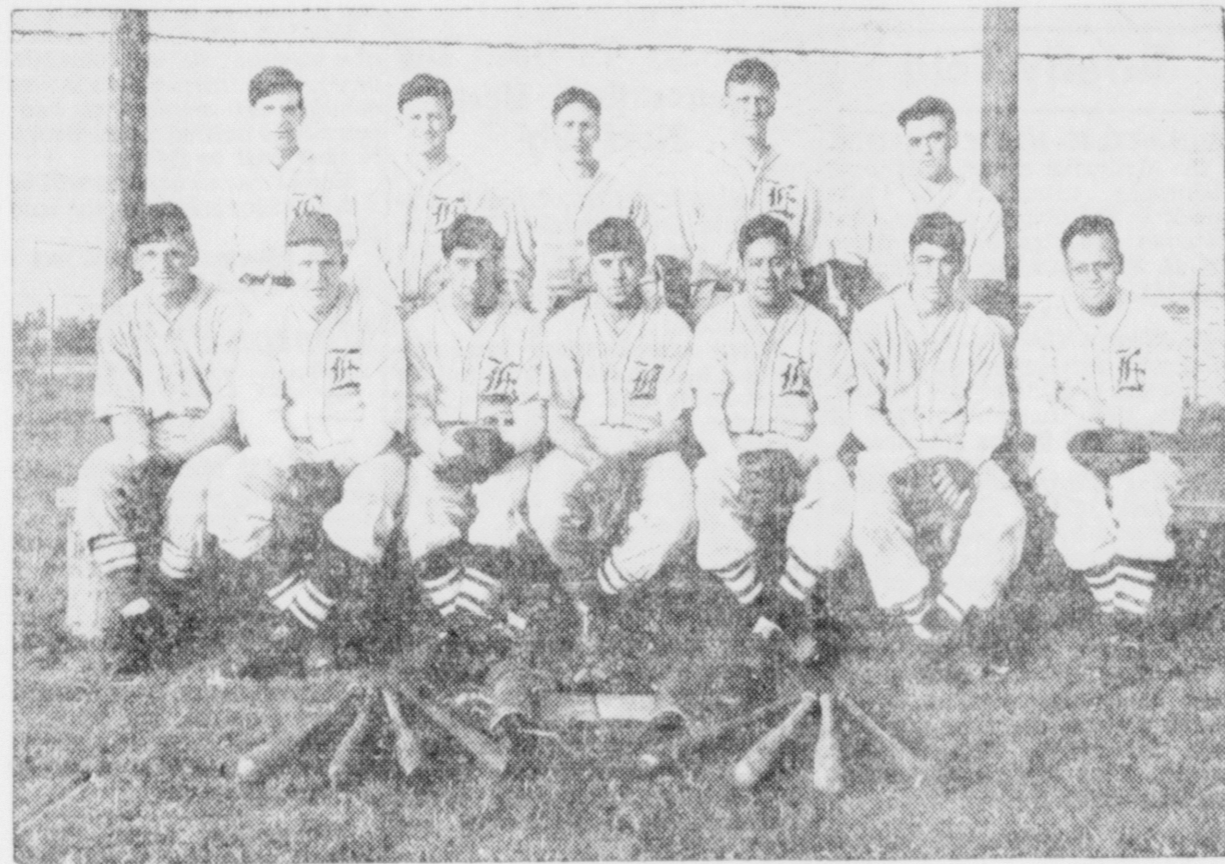

Fred Gardner will be the Bears' umpire today and the second arbiter will be designated by the Negaunee team.

POSTPONED BY RAIN
St. Louis, June 15 (AP)—The doubles match with which the United States had hoped to clinch victory in its first round Davis Cup tennis tie with the Philippine Islands was postponed by rain late today until tomorrow.

CUBS PLAY AT CHATHAM TODAY

Revised Lineup Will Be In Action For Rain-bow Game

The Escanaba Cubs will present a revised lineup today when they meet Chatham in a rain-bow league game at Chatham this afternoon.

Jack Schills was injured in a practice session the other night and will be unable to get into action today. He will accompany the team to Chatham, however.

Bill Thorin will grace the hill for the Cubs again today and the remainder of the lineup, announced by Manager Al Ness, follows: Thatcher, 3b; Pruett, cf; Kuchenberg, ss; Bob Dufour, lf; Jack Finn, 1b; Joe Rudemacher, rf; Dick Lough, 2b; Don Scott, catcher; and Thorin, pitcher. Jim Dean, Roy Johnson and Leslie Green also will be available for duty.

The Cubs lost Jim Ross the past week when Ross left for Chicago to spend the summer.

The players will report at the field house at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Escanaba Bears baseball club faces a stiff challenge today when they meet the Negaunee Rovers at the city diamond. The Bears are in the cellar of the NWM league standings but they have an opportunity to get off the bottom by upsetting Negaunee. A defeat, on the other hand, would bury them deeper into the mire. The Rovers are well up in the standings of the league but after examining their record, the Bears are convinced that they can trim the Negaunee team.

The Bears have the advantage of playing on their home field. The record shows that the Escanaba club is particularly dangerous in its own ballpark. The Bears lost to Crystal Falls, 3-2, in the opener here and defeated the Iron Kings, 9 to 8, at Escanaba two weeks ago. Moreover, the club is growing stronger every week, playing better defensive ball and showing more potency at the plate. Their pitching is good and the club's morale is high, despite their lowly position in the league standings.

While the Bears are slugging it out with Negaunee here this afternoon, the Escanaba Cubs will be playing at Chatham in a rain-bow league game. The Cubs acquired a new infielder during the week, Freddie Thatcher, who formerly played at Lawrence College. The Cubs' lineup may be revised somewhat today as a result of the edict issued by Manager Ness that players on the Cubs' team will be barred from playing softball. Some of the boys balked on the rule.

Stan Musial didn't jump to the Mexican League despite the attractive offers presented by Alfonso Pasquel and Mickey Owen, but the Cardinal outfielder may be south of the border next season. Respect for his Cardinal contract which doesn't run out until the end of the season apparently was all that kept Musial from grabbing the $120,000 bid offered by the Mexican money man. Mickey Owen told Musial that everything is milk and honey down Mexico way.

There were 20 members of the Pittsburgh Pirates who voted to strike the night of June 7 and only 16 who voted against it, but the players had previously agreed that a three-fourths majority would be required for a suspension. In general the players seemed to be happy that there was no walkout, although most of them emphasized that they believed in the principle of collective bargaining. The Guild undoubtedly will intensify its activities after present player contracts expire.

Hit and Miss—The price scale of tickets for the all-star game in Boston will be $4.80 for box seats, $3.60 for grandstand reserve, $2.40 for standing room in the grandstand and $1.20 for bleacher seats. . . . Joe DiMaggio's first 11 home runs this season were well distributed around the league. . . . Joe wallpapered one in every park except Chicago.

OLD JINX FAILS TO STOP TIGERS

Win Streak Stretched To 5 Games As Senators Slump, 3 To 1

BY FRANK KENESSON
Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Stretching a winning streak to five games to celebrate the hoisting of their 1945 World Championship flag, the Detroit Tigers dropped Washington deeper into fourth place today by beating their old nemesis, Emil (Dutch) Leonard, 3 to 1.

Leonard, who had knuckled his way to six straight victories over the Tigers since September, 1944, gave only five hits in losing a brilliant pitching duel to Detroit's Hal Newhouse, who allowed six.

Detroit's first two hits off Dutch were both bunts, but one of them by Pat Mullin came just ahead of Second Baseman Jimmy Bloodworth's home run in the fifth and that lick gave Newhouse enough margin to achieve his 11th victory of the year.

The Nats bunched three singles for their only run in the sixth when ex-Tiger Bill Hitchcock led off with a hit to right, took second on Buddy Lewis' infield hit and scored on Jeff Heath's line single to right.

Rings Presented
Newhouse's double, Eddie Lake's single and Gerry Priddy's boot gave the Tigers their final run in the eighth.

In ceremonies prior to the game Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler presented World Championship diamond rings to the 1945 Tigers who beat the Chicago Cubs in the World Series.

A crowd of 28,438 paying customers watched Newhouse strike out seven men in becoming the first American League hurler to annex 11 victories.

Hal was in trouble only twice. Mickey Vernon doubled and Heath walked with one away in the fourth but Priddy bounced into a double play to end the threat.

After Hitchcock and Lewis had singled in the sixth, Newhouse forced Stan Spence and Vernon to pop up but he lost his shutout when Heath singled Hitchcock across. Priddy then forced Heath to end the inning.

Hitchcock and Lewis each had two of Washington's six hits—all of them singles except Vernon's double into the left field corner.

The Tigers had only three hits through seven innings off Leonard, including George Kell's bunt in the fourth, Mullin's bunt in the fifth and Bloodworth's timely two-run homer—his second of the year. Only other Tiger to reach first safely until the eighth was Hank Greenberg, who fanned in the seventh and drew life when Catcher Fermin (Mike) Guerra led the pitch get through him and roll to the screen.

Short hops: Bloodworth's home run was Detroit's 25th in 54 games this season, 14 of them by Greenberg. Baseball Commissioner Chandler sat with Tiger Owner Walter O. Briggs in a box behind the plate while other baseball notables—Connie Mack, Leslie O'Connor, Will Harridge, William Benswanger of Pittsburgh and Del Webb of the Yankees—watched the game along the first base side.

Prior to the flag-raising ceremonies the Tigers were hosts to the prominent visitors at luncheon at a downtown hotel. The June 15 deadline for reducing big league rosters to 30 players found the Tigers with only 28 on the squad. Taking their fifth victory in nine games with Washington this year, the Tigers lopped another full game off the big gap between them and the pace-setting Boston Red Sox, who now are 11½ games in front of Detroit.

Freddie Hutchinson was Manager Steve O'Neill's pitching choice for Sunday's single game, opposing Knuckle-baller Roger Wolf of the Nats.

Except for the fourth inning, when the warriors bunched three hits for their two runs, Heusser was in complete control. Cincinnati . . . 000 210 000—3 11 0

Brooklyn, June 15 (AP)—After taking four straight licks from the Chicago Cubs, the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers turned the tables on the Bruins today by turning them 6-3 before a paid attendance of 27,171.

The triumph enabled the Dodgers to increase their first place margin to two and a half games over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals who were wallowed by the New York Giants. In losing, the third place Cubs dropped four full games off the pace.

Joe Hatten became the seventh straight Dodger starter to fall to go the distance when he walked himself out of the game in the second inning by forcing across the first Cub run with a base on balls to Don Johnson.

LARMAYS SCORE UPSET OF WEEK

Bethany, Papermill, Vets Still Share Leads In Softball

Larmay's of Ford River Switch scored the upset of the week when they knocked off the league-leading V. F. W. team Tuesday night at No. 1 diamond. The Vets, however, came back in their next game Wednesday night to edge out White Birch in eleven innings, 4 to 3, and then hit their normal stride the following evening to defeat the Manistique Papermakers, 7 to 4, in an exhibition contest.

The youthy Flat Rock CYO scored their first victory of the season Friday when they defeated People's Bar in a contest which could also be described as an upset.

The Buck Inn defeated the Paper Mill Thursday night but it was a non-league game and the Papermakers perched themselves on top of the American league by nosing out Liberty Loan, 10 to 9, in the feature game Monday night.

The Birds Eye won both of their games last week—beating the Flat Rock CYO Wednesday and then upsetting Grandda Gardens Thursday. Although losing a close, eleven-inning struggle to the V. F. W. Thursday, White Birch clung to third place by nipping the popular People's Bar in an interesting game Tuesday night.

In the National league, Bethany turned back its strongest rivals when they downed the K. of C. Wednesday and defeated Lehigh's Music Store, 3 to 2, Friday.

The Delta Transits has been admitted to the National league giving that loop an even number of teams.

Redskins Tackle League Top 9 At Munising Today

Gladstone, Mich. — The Gladstone Redskins travel to Munising to tackle the league-leading Alger county nine this afternoon. A chance for the top rung in the Rainbow league also falls to the Redskins for at the present time Munising is setting the pace with the local a half game out.

Members of the team will meet at the city hall between 10 and 10:30 o'clock this morning to leave for Munising.

While Manager Dib Bovin has not indicated his choice, it is considered likely that Rothschild will get the start mound assignment today.

Addition of LaBrasseur of Nahma to the local lineup paid off last Sunday for he came through with some heavy and timely batting.

PRIM ON SHELF
Brooklyn, June 15 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today placed Pitcher Ray Prim on the inactive list. Prim won 13 games for the National League Champions last year but has been suffering from a sore arm this season.

Membership Cards For Club 314 Will Be Ready This Week

Club 314, the city youth center in the recreational building, will be open for daily use as soon as interior decorating work is completed and individual membership cards distributed.

The cards are available now and young people between the ages of 14 and 20, inclusive, who reside in Escanaba or attend Escanaba schools are invited to pick them up at the club on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday between 10 a. m. and noon or between 2 and 5 p. m.

Holders of membership cards will pay a small monthly fee to cover current club expenses. A small fee will continue to be charged for dances as well, and members must also show their cards to be admitted.

Almost 600 young people attended the two dances at the club last week.

The club's student council again requests the aid of volunteers to help with the decorating work. Any eligible young person is invited to drop in and give his assistance. Council members point out that the club cannot be opened for daily use until the work is completed.

As soon as the membership roster is complete, work committees for the weekly dances will be chosen alphabetically so that each member will have an opportunity to do his part in conducting these events.

Another dance will be held next Wednesday night for the older club members, these being senior high age youths and young people through 20 years of age.
